

10 members of the Caerphilly Club attended the British round of the World Championship Super Enduro at Echo Arena, Liverpool to watch David Knight and Jonny Walker do battle with reigning champ Taddy Blasuziak. The course comprised giant cotton reels, truck tyres, a water splash, rock gardens, log pits and large tree trunks. The best riders raced in heats to decide the final places and entertainment was provided in between heats by a freestyle motorcross team. The venue was relatively empty but provided a good course with a good view for spectators. Overall a good day out and worth the visit, Knighter put up a fight but Taddy blew everyone away on the day. The event was covered by Motors TV.
